On Exhibit

Continuing to February 14, 2016 the AGP features four exhibitions from our Permanent Collection.

Power Play presents work that challenges us to consider currency, movies, televised and printed news, advertising, and clothing as mediums that construct, legitimize, and shift power.

Life, Still examines the genre of still life across practices and mediums. Humorous, charming, and contemplative, the works play within and stretch the definition of the genre.

With Bloore | After Bloore features works by Ronald Bloore, members of the Regina Five, as well as the artist's peers and students, revealing Bloore's practice and his influence on Canadian painting.

The works in Landing show artists engaging with the land through direct interaction, mapping, and communication. Rather than fitting into the strict tradition of landscape art, they focus on the textures and colours of the ground, waterways, and sky or take a broader perspective and animate geography.

The Art Gallery of Peterborough offers free admission, barrier-free access and a Gallery Shop. Located at 250 Crescent Street in downtown Peterborough. Parking is available in the Del Cray lot. For more information call 705 743 9179 and visit www.agp.on.ca
